From the President's Desk

I'd like to thank all of you who came to our August General meeting. The plant exchange was a lot of fun and I think everybody enjoyed taking a new plant home with them. We had several new members and it was a pleasure to meet them. We are going to try a new program where we assign provisional members a mentor to help them through the provisional period; explain terminology, introduce them to other members, help them find the classes that appropriate for their dog(s), etc. I think it's a wonderful idea!

We were contacted by Julie Garmendia, a columnist from the Residents' Community Newspaper. and she came to a class and spent quite a bit of time with us as research for her article about the club. It should be out the first week of September and I promise to share it with you as soon as I receive it.

Our November trials are just around the corner! Hopefully we'll have plenty of volunteers. Nothing is better than stewarding for learning the requirements of the various Obedience and Rally classes.

Be a part of our trials, even if you're not entering!

. -Ginny

RECENT TRIAL UPDATES cont'd

Winston (Susan Howard) was invited to the AKC National Obedience Championship (NOC) for the 2nd year running, in Wilmington, Ohio. Saturday everyone competes in all 8 rings, then the Top 50 are announced & they move onto Sunday's competition. We came in at #18 in the Top 50. Sunday he had wonderful runs, again 8 rings, and had only lost 5.5 points until he anticipated the 2nd go out in one ring so that took us out of the Top 20 placements! Super proud of him - not an easy venue.

A DOGGIE REUNION AT NOC

The day before the National Obedience Championship Susan Howard caught up with, and trained with a good friend of hers, who has one of Winston's pups & a sibling to Susan's young boy Flyte. The last time Susan saw Willow was when she handed her to Mary at 8 weeks old.

MEET OUR BOARD MEMBERS

Alison Nelson, Board, Sunshine Committee, K9 Webpage and Instructor Biography

After retirement, we moved to Ponte Vedra almost 10 years ago to escape the brutal Illinois Winters. I had just begun training in Illinois after getting a puppy but we didn't have a club or group of trainers there. Fortunately, we met up with several K-9 members (Colleen Whalen among them) at a Farmers Market almost immediately after the move. We joined the club and became active attending meetings, wonderful classes and trials. I have learned so much from the K-9 trainers and decided to help as an instructor after completing several titles with our Lab EmmyLou and Sheltie Tanner. We earned Rally Advanced Excellent (RAE) and obedience titles CD, CDX, Graduate Open. I am currently training with Sheltie Coco in Open and Rally Advanced Excellent and Lab Rex in Novice and Rally Intermediate. I love training my dogs and working with dedicated trainers that share that love. I feel fortunate to be a K-9 instructor and meet so many great people and their dogs, many I consider good friends as the K-9 dog training community grows.

My life with dogs

Born and raised in Mayport, I left for college and only returned to Florida in 2017. During that time, I earned a BA, MA and PhD in Art History, settled down to teaching in 1974 at Missouri State University, acquired my first obedience sheltie in 1990 and then joined the Springfield, MO Dog Training Club. I was well and truly hooked. My first obedience dog, Toby, was whelped in my living room and went on to earn SMDTC's first UDX in 1995 (U-ATCH, Canadian OTCH Tobemory of Mull, UDX, TD) (pictured here). With marriage came not only a husband but 3 more shelties (Amy, Abby and Sunny) with whom I earned 2 CDXs on and a UD.

As the years passed came more shelties, Ruffy and Skye who both earned a UD but died at an unexpectedly early age. Skye left us a son, Sevi, who earned a UDX and was the father of Saxon who is still with me. At the encouragement of my niece and nephew, I returned to Florida in 2017 and immediately joined K-9 (I needed my dog club fix!) Joining with me were Sevi, Saxon and Sax's nephew, Carson (who just earned his UD). I finally reached my goal of an OTCH with Sax 2 years ago (more recent pic). After Sevi's passing and at the height of Covid, I journeyed in an RV to Illinois to pick up my new dog, Megan, who is currently enthralled with herding (not handled by me!) and having a ball meeting new people and dogs!

Miranda Swarz

Hi my name is Miranda and my 6-month-old bull terriers name is Lady Cotton. I own Cotton's mother and have loved dogs my entire life. I did not realize the difference training makes with your puppy. Raising Cotton from birth has been a different experience than any other dog I've had. It has changed me! Raising Bull Terrier puppies is what I do best. Through training I have made an unbreakable bond with her. I look forward to her paw healing up so that we can start back training for obedience and agility. Cotton is a very smart puppy, she is independent but very much attached to me. I'm going to take a trainer's course starting in the next couple of weeks. Also, I would love to meet other dog owners who are interested in Conformation Shows who would be will to mentor me for the future!

Thank you so much for accepting me and Cotton into the club. I'm really excited to learn more and see what the future holds for us!

Ben Bond

My wife Loretta and I moved to The Villages Florida from Northern Virginia, after I retired about 10 years ago. Last year, we moved to St. Johns to be nearer to our Grandkids who are 5 and 7 years old.

When my son was about 7 or 8 years old we were thinking about getting a dog, but I was not sure it was a good idea. One day, we were at my son's Little League practice and his coach's wife walked up with this big yellow dog. I asked her what it was and she said it was a yellow Lab. I was pretty sure she was lying to me since I knew Labs only came in black. She also told me she was raising it to be a guide dog for Guiding Eyes for the Blind and that she would keep it for a year and then return it to the school for training. This seemed like a good deal to me because I was not sure I wanted the long term commitment of owning a dog. To make a long story short, we raised four yellow Labs, none of which became guides, but two of which were used as breeders (supposedly top 5% of dogs). We also adopted two of the labs. Since our house was filling up with dogs, we suspended our puppy raising until we got down to Florida. We immediately began raising puppies for Southeastern Guide Dogs. Our first puppy was an almost white Golden Retriever. I discovered Golden Retrievers are different from Labs. He went on to become a guide and is still working. After that we raised a yellow Lab that went on to become a guide, and then a yellow Lab that became a service dog for a veteran with PTSD.

The next dog we raised was Magic. His Magic level exceeded that allowed in a guide dog, so we adopted him when he was released from the school. He did very well the first 6 weeks, until they took him outside for training. Magic had issues with anything that moved, leaves were the worst, but he also liked bunnies, squirrels and armadillos. Even though I had raised him from a puppy I still could not walk him around the block without being dragged to everything that was interesting. So I decided to enter him in an interim obedience class at Marion Alachua dog training. At this point I had had no formal training in dog obedience other than basic commands we were taught by the guide dog schools. What I did not realize was that the class I had signed him up for was obedience for dog trials. During this class, I learned two things. First, all types of dogs are smart, and second that obedience was not for me. But one of the instructors suggested Rally to me because Magic takes additional guidance which you can give in Rally.

So over the next 3 years, Magic and I practiced and went to Rally trials. Initially, all I wanted to do was qualify. In Magic's first off lead Advanced trial (which was outside), he decided to run out of the ring and say high to someone eating nachos in their truck that was parked right outside the ring. I had seen this happen to other people, and I was told if you could call them back, you still might qualify. After he realized the guy would not give him any nachos, he looked over at me and I called him back into the ring. He came back to heel and we finished up and I got a qualifying score. I was very happy. Since that time, we got better, and this year he got his Championship Title in Rally. We also somehow managed to get his CD and had fun getting his Trick Dog Intermediate title. Since we finished up Rally, Magic and I are now working on Agility and Open obedience.

We also raised another guide puppy since Magic. His name is JC, and while we were raising him he got his Novice Rally title in ASCA. But when he was a little over a year old he developed some fear issues related to scents. Since this was during Covid and the school was not able to take as many dogs back for training, they released him without taking him in for formal evaluation. We adopted him. I have started working him in AKC Rally and plan to show him soon.

We are trying to figure out when we will get our next guide dog puppy, but right now, I am happy working on Magic and JC and playing with our grandkids
